Welcome to the CBIT Global Coordination Platform

We would like to warmly welcome you to the CBIT Global Coordination Platform, the go-to place for CBIT projects.
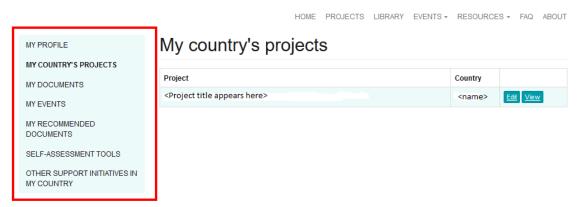

The CBIT Global Coordination Platform (or short 'CBIT GCP') hosts all CBIT projects worldwide and brings together practitioners from countries and agencies in order to:

- Enable coordination
- Identify needs and gaps in national transparency systems
- Share lessons learned through regional and global meetings
- Facilitate access to emerging practices, methodologies, and guidance on transparency of climate action and support
- Support the community of practitioners working on CBIT projects
- Facilitate the sharing of good practices from CBIT countries

What can the CBIT GCP offer a CBIT Project?

The CBIT Global Coordination Platform offers a space for each CBIT project (the project page), providing the country with a communication tool for domestic and international audiences on the focus and the progress of implementation of its CBIT project. The project page allows the country to effectively communicate the progress of the project, and also share results such as deliverables or events. It allows provides tools for assessing the capacity-building needs on climate transparency, and an effective way to communicate these.

As a focal point to the CBIT project of your country, you have access to a customized area of the platform like the one in the image below. You will only see this area after you are registered as focal point and logged in. We also need to link your profile to the project, so let us know if there are issues, and we address those.

This customized area shows a list of shortcuts that allow you to perform different tasks.

My Profile: Change your profile information, including password, add a photo and a bio.

My country's projects: View and edit the information in the project page, including the status of implementation of activities, add information about project events, add project documents.

My documents: Shows all the documents you have uploaded to the platform, and allows you to add documents to appear in the library or in the project page.

My events: Shows all the events you have created in the platform, and allows you to add events to appear in the project page.

My recommended documents: Shows publications relevant to you, based on the capacity gaps identified by the self-assessment tool.

Self-assessment tools: Gives you access to a tool, developed by the CBIT GCP, which assesses the capacity-building needs on climate transparency of the country.

Other support initiatives in my country: Enables you to add information about other projects or initiatives in your country that are supporting the development of capacities in climate transparency in the country.

In addition, you can:

- Read the publications produced by the CBIT GCP, with guidance on the MPGs and guidance about establishing information systems for climate action and support (here)
- Listen to earlier CBIT webinars (here)
- Read about earlier CBIT Global Meetings and explore the presentations of the meeting (here)
- Explore the library and find publications about the enhanced transparency framework (here)
- Search for projects using different search criteria, such as sectors and implementing agency (here)
- Explore the different CBIT projects and contact the project focal point (information in each project page)

Your Role as the Focal Point of a CBIT Project

As the Focal Point of a CBIT Project, you play an important role on the CBIT Global Coordination Platform. It is your responsibility to keep the page of your CBIT project up-to-date and we therefore recommend you to visit the page of your CBIT project quarterly to make sure the information in there is updated. This allows other CBIT projects and agencies and even stakeholders from your own country to follow the progress of your CBIT project. Particularly the following elements should be updated regularly:

Project Indicators	Project Implementation	Project Documents	Project Events	Capacity-building needs	Self-assessment Tool
• Provide the project indicators (capacity for transparency and quality of MRV systems) as well as mid-term and terminal evaluation • Update the list of indicators on project results	• Provide a summary of the project's progress • Update the progress of the activity or deliverable of each project output	• Upload project documents • This can be anything from deliverables, workshop reports and other documents	• Upload upcoming events of you projects • This can be everything from a meeting, workshop or a training related to your project	• Add a summary of the country's needs and priorities for capacity-building	• Complete the self-assessments at least once a year, prior to the Global CBIT Meetings

We have prepared a separate Step-by-Step Guide for updating the page of your CBIT project, including the elements above. You will receive reminders to update the page of your CBIT project, and to use the Self-assessment Tool prior to the Global CBIT Meetings.

Ask us!

We are here to help you! You can always contact us if you have any problems, questions, or comments regarding the CBIT Global Coordination Platform. We strive to answer you as soon as possible. You can call us, or write us an email. We are continually working towards improving the CBIT Global Coordination and are very grateful for any feedback. We are looking forward to hearing from you!

Your CBIT Global Coordination Platform Team
per.wretlind@un.org and/ or alejandro.regaterolabadia@un.org
+45 4533 5273